Competitor Analysis

COMPETITOR 1:-Parle Products Pvt. LTD

- USP :- The USP (Unique Selling Proposition) of Parle Company lies in its long-standing tradition of providing affordable and quality biscuits and confectionery products. Parle has built a strong reputation for offering a wide range of biscuits, cookies, and snacks that cater to diverse consumer preferences. Their products are known for their delicious taste, consistent quality, and affordable pricing, making them accessible to a wide range of consumers across India and beyond.
- Online communication: parle has a strong online presence through social media, where it engages with consumers, share nostalgic content, and promotes its products.

SWOT ANALYSIS

Strengths

- Supply Chain Parle has a large supply chain. Parle products can be seen in every regional area of India. Without any doubt, Parle is the most widely distributed Indian biscuit brand. this is the strongest advantage for Parle-G because it is the largest sold biscuit brand in the largest market for Biscuits.
- Strong Presence in Rural Markets In 2014, Parle was ranked 48th in all Indian Brands. It is the most trustable brand in the eyes of people.
- Affordable Prices Parle has 5 rupees packets also. Poor people find it affordable to add it to their breakfast. It even has the small 2 rupes packaging.

Weeknesses

- Dependent on the Parle-G Brand for its Revenue- Prale-G is the single revenue_generator premium biscuit range on parle limited. Its other snacks and Candies don't have such likeability among its Consumers.
- Same Taste and Products Similar Products produced by the companies like Glucose Biscuits, Mango Bite, Candies. Nothing new products are being launched by the company for a very long time. Even the taste of exiting products is getting deteriorated day by day.
- Many Competitors in the Segment There are many Domestic brands to compete with the parle brands. The supply chain of parle is affected by regional products. And new Bakery products the major competition of the parle.

Opportunities

- Launching New Products in Health Sectors Parle is spreading its wings and launching innovative products in health sectors. Parle has a share in pharmaceutical companies. And collaborating with hospitals and famous doctors.
- Export Potential Parle G is exported to SAARC countries & to US, UK, and Europe as well as to parts of Africa. Thus, the export segment of the brand is very strong too.
- Rise in Purchasing Power of Consumers- Parle is a company that tends to maintain quality while keeping the price low. And increasing purchasing power of customers leads to a high supply of products.

Threats

- Bakery Products Bakeries are regionally located and are a major commission to every snack and biscuit company. Due to the low prices and reduction of taxes, it's aiming towards the be the part of every kitchen.
- Substitutionary Products Parle-G biscuits are majorly used as the morning snack in every typical Indian family. But with the increase in the demand for other snacks like Toast, Sandwiches, Rusk, the demand for parle biscuits eventually decreased.
- Increasing Raw Material Prices Raw Materials are a basic subsidiary of any product. Like Wheat, Sugar, some other ingredients are increasing in demand and prices keep on fluctuating and because of that prices of the products also increase.

COMPITETOR 2 :- NESTLE

- USP: The USP (Unique Selling Proposition) of Nestlé is multifaceted. Nestlé stands out due to its deep-rooted nutritional expertise, evident through its commitment to creating products that align with consumers' health and dietary needs. This expertise is complemented by Nestlé's extensive product range, which spans across various categories, catering to diverse consumer preferences and occasions.
- Online communication: Nestlé utilizes online communication channels such as its official website, social media platforms, email newsletters, and online advertising to engage with consumers, share product information, promotions, and company updates. These channels enable Nestlé to connect with a wide audience, address customer inquiries, and build brand loyalty in the digital space.

SWOT ANALYSIS

Strengths

- Global Presence- Nestle's active presence in 187 countries is advantageous to its undivided growth. The presence in some countries is over 150 years, establishing the brand in the local environment. This means that their product is available to the people in these many countries, and it creates a long-lasting impact on people as well.
- Increasing Cash flows- Nestle cash flows increased by 10.9% to CHF 11.9 billion in 2019. This means that the group's finances are healthy and they can invest more money and can expand quickly.
- Strong Supply Chain operations- The nestle group encourages innovations at the local levels, incorporates technology and is increasing the traceability of the sources of the raw materials of its products.

Weeknesses

- Increase in prices- Nestle has increased prices by 6.5% on a certain category of their consumer goods. The price increase is due to an increase in raw material and transportation costs, supply chain constraints, and an overall inflationary environment.
- Span of control and organizational structure- Nestlé is organized in a matrix structure. That means a large number of brands are under the same umbrella group which makes it somewhat challenging to manage a large number of individual brands, which can often result in discord and conflict of interest.
- Water controversy- Nestle was accused of pumping millions of liters of water from the Canada reserve, where residents are deprived of drinking water.

Opportunities

- Emerging Markets- Nestlé can further expand its presence in emerging markets, where rising incomes and changing lifestyles drive demand for packaged food and beverages.
- Health and Wellness Trends- Growing consumer awareness of health and wellness presents opportunities for Nestlé to introduce more nutritious and functional products.
- Digital Innovation- Nestlé can leverage digital technologies for marketing, distribution, and consumer engagement to enhance its online presence and reach new audiences.

Threats:

- Intense Competition Nestlé faces fierce competition from global rivals as well as local players in various markets, posing challenges to market share and pricing.
- Regulatory Risks- Stringent regulations and compliance requirements in the food and beverage industry could increase operational costs and restrict product innovation.
- Economic Uncertainty- Economic downturns, currency fluctuations, and geopolitical tensions may impact consumer spending patterns and affect Nestlé's sales and profitability.

COMPETITOR 3:- SUNFEAST

- USP:-The Unique Selling Proposition (USP) of Sunfeast lies in its innovative product offerings that blend quality, taste, and convenience. Sunfeast is known for creating a diverse range of biscuits, snacks, and instant foods that cater to modern consumer preferences while maintaining affordability.
- Online communication: Sunfeast's online communication strategy likely revolves around engaging consumers through multiple digital channels, providing them with relevant and engaging content, and driving awareness and sales of its products. For the most accurate and up-to-date information, it's recommended to visit Sunfeast's official website and social media profiles.

SWOT ANALYSIS

Strengths:-

- Product Diversity Sunfeast offers a wide range of products, including glucose biscuits and premium biscuits like the Dark Fantasy range.
- Market Position- It is the fourth largest biscuit brand in India, behind Parle, Britannia, and Oreo.
- Distribution Network Leveraging ITC's robust distribution network, Sunfeast has a strong market reach.

Weaknesses:-

- Little Differentiation- Many of Sunfeast's products are similar to existing offerings from other brands, lacking unique features.
- BTL Marketing- There's a need for stronger Below-The-Line marketing efforts to enhance Sunfeast's presence at the point of purchase.
- Competition in Noodles Segment- Yippee noodles face stiff competition from established brands like Maggi and Top Ramen.

Opportunities:-

- Expanding Market- The growing Indian FMCG sector presents opportunities for Sunfeast to increase its market share.
- Innovation- There's potential for Sunfeast to innovate and create new products that can differentiate it from competitors.
- Health and Wellness Trends- Rising consumer awareness of health and wellness presents opportunities for Sunfeast to introduce healthier product variants or formulations to meet evolving consumer preferences.

Threats:-

- Intense Competition- The biscuit and snacks market is highly competitive, with several established players.
- Changing Consumer Preferences- Shifts in consumer tastes and health consciousness could impact demand for certain products.
- Regulatory Compliance- Stringent regulations related to food safety, labeling, and advertising could increase compliance costs and pose challenges to product development and marketing efforts.
